St. Bede's at this period of its history was perhaps the poorest and most miserable parish in the East End of London. Close-packed, crushed by the buttressed height of the railway viaduct, rendered airless by huge walls of factories, it at once banished lively interest from a stranger's mind and left only a dull oppression of the spirit

Spirit of Eden is the fourth studio album by English band Talk Talk, released in 1988 on Parlophone Records. The songs were written by vocalist Mark Hollis and producer Tim Friese-Greene and the album was compiled from a lengthy recording process at London's Wessex Studios between 1987 and 1988. Often working in darkness, the band recorded many hours of improvised performances that drew on ...

Before sugar cane was planted in the Caribbean, before gin laid waste to London, even before the word "alcohol" was first used, people drank arrack. Yet in a modern world dominated by global markets power-selling portfolios of vodka, gin, rum, brandy and whisky - it begs the question; where is all the arrack?
